CONDENSED NEWS.

At Vancouver, B. C., considerable disappointment has been caused through the province, by the failure of the Dominion government to include in the Second Canadian regiment, South Africa a company from British Columbia. Prominent citizens of Vancouver have decided to raise a company of 100 mounted infantry, providing horses and defraying all expenses.

Men are being gathered at recruitment offices at Lincoln, regiments Chadsford, Beattie, Hastings and the Island, Neb., for service in the U. S. army. When the men apply in answer to advertisements for laborers, clerks they are asked if they wish to be for service in South Africa against the Boers. If they answer in the affirmative and answer of an abundance of hands for the Government, they are sent to the front.

During a protracted fight the British soldier, in most instances compelled to fire away all the ammunition we have personally able to carry. An ordinary private carries 100 pounds of ammunition. When a soldier is wounded before an action, when heavy fire is expected, this 100 pounds is supplemented by fifty more from the personal reserve of seventy-seven or more men. This each private advances into battle carrying no less than 150 possible dealers of death.

Whenever a soldier falls or is wounded he is immediately stripped of his ammunition, and it is distributed among the men who are capable of carrying on the fight. The reserve ammunition for each soldier is carried in two bags and on each of two mules called "pack mules."

On a transport, whether it carries horses or mules, the animals do have what is known as a "bad time." On the contrary, they rather enjoy it in normal weather, and if the voyage is not too long. As a rule, the ship is large enough; and if the cavalry regiment is going out each horse has its trooper to groom and feed it. They are not poked away forward, where ventilation is difficult, as in cattle ships, occupy the best parts of the vessel. On each side of the steeper stalls are in these the "hormer" stand, with rails toward the vessel's side and heads looking in-ward. I had such a bad cold I could hardly speak out loud; my lungs were sore and pained me a good deal and I was coughing very much. I got a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink, Tan and Cherry Pectorant, and after taking a few doses my cough loosened up and the pain in my lungs left. The next day I could talk much better and felt more myself than for several days. By the time the bottle was used up my cough was cured and I felt like a new man. ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BANGOR SOCIETY HELD ON TUESDAY.

OFFICERS FOR 1911. ELECTED.

RESOLUTION TO MEMORIAL OF FOUR DECEASED MEMBERS.

Report of Librarian Harlow Society During Past Year Has Received 279 Gifts.

On Tuesday afternoon in the library building the Bangor Historical Society held its annual meeting and elected the following officers:

Edward B. Nealley, president; Henry Lord, vice president; John S. Sewall, corresponding secretary; E. Freeman Duren, recording secretary; Wm. G. Duren, assistant recording secretary; T. U. Coe, treasurer; N. S. Harlow, librarian and cabinet-keeper; A. W. Palmer, W. C. Mason, H. N. Fairbanks, A. C. Hamlin, F. W. Porter, B. B. Thatcher, executive committee.

The following members were also elected: Charles O. Cossina, Bangor, and Prof. Lucius H. Merrill of Orono. Reference was made to death during the year. By the president, to Hon. Joseph Franklin Snow, who died suddenly in this city Oct. 26, 1899, aged 66, and to Dr. Jerrie Knowlton Phillips, who died after a short illness Nov. 5, 1899, aged 41 years; by Hon. B. B. Thatcher, to Charles Pierce Stetson, Esq., who died suddenly in this city Sept. 29, aged 64 years; and by Prof. J. S. Sewall, to Prof. William Macleod Barbour, D. D., who died at the residence of his son in Milford, Mass., Dec. 6, aged 72 years.

This resolution was accepted: Resolved, That the Bangor Historical Society desires to commemorate the names of Charles P. Stetson, Esq., Hon. J. F. Snow, Dr. J. K. Phillips and Prof. William M. Barbour, D. D., members of this society who have passed away during the year. They have each and all in many ways shown their interest in the objects and the spirit of the society, and we wish to record our sense of loss in their departure.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

To the Bangor Historical Association: Your librarian submits the following report for the year 1910. It is necessarily merely a statement of the books, documents and objects of historic interest received during the year, as our society is still merely a recipient of good things, having nothing to offer to other societies in exchange, unable to provide suitable accommodation for our collections, to make them easily available to students and others who might find among them valuable aids to their researches, dependent upon the charity of a stronger institution for suitable storage room, and fortunate only in two respects, the continued interest of many friends in helping to add to our treasures, and freedom from large expenditures, which is a source of comfort in our poverty-stricken condition.

I should add to these the constant good will, and efficient gratuitous assistance of Mrs. Mary R. Curran, the accomplished librarian of the Bangor Public Library, who has rendered us so much aid in the classification and cataloguing of our possessions; a task assumed voluntarily, and carried out in the most skilful and satisfactory manner beyond the gratitude of our society her only return for this labor will be postponed I fear to that dim hereafter when all good deeds of earth will receive their just reward. Let us hope that her time for this may be deferred for many useful years.

By the accompanying schedules you will see that we have received during the past year 279 gifts, comprising many books, documents, manuscripts, and other articles, of which many have a great historic value—an analysis of this catalogue which is the work of our friend Mrs. Curran would be interesting, but if properly made, would be too long for the limits of this report. I can only refer interested members to the lists, which are interesting, and the reading of which recalls many events in local and national history that were important when they occurred and which should not be forgotten by students and historians to-day.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

N. S. Harlow.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the Board of Managers of the Bangor Children's Home: I have the honor to submit for your approval my first annual report. This covers the last four months that Miss Susan A. Brown was secretary, and eight months I have served you in that capacity.

Miss Brown, after performing the duties of secretary faithfully and well, for four years, resigned last April; but as she has not withdrawn from the Board, you will still be able to avail yourselves of her advice and assistance.

There has been some change in your Board. The constitution requires that the secretary shall be one of the managers, and there being a vacancy, I was made a manager previous to being elected secretary. Mrs. J. B. Pass, who had been a member of the Board twenty years, died a short time after this, and Mrs. John F. Snow was chosen to fill the place.

There have been fifty-eight children in the Home during the year. At present there are thirty-six. For so large a family there has been very little sickness. In February there was one case of German measles, and later in the spring there were three or four cases. In August, there was one very light case of scarlet fever. As soon as it was discovered that the child had scarlet fever, he was isolated from the rest of the household, and the house quarantined. Every precaution was taken against the spread of the disease and when the child recovered, all the playthings with which he had amused himself were burned, and the "whole house disinfected. It is much to the credit of those who had charge of the child that none of the other children caught the fever from him. Besides the German measles and the scarlet fever, there have been only a few slight illnesses and one broken arm.

The children have had the usual number of good times this year. On the eve of Washington's birthday, a little entertainment was given in the Home. For the second time, Grace cottage at Northport was offered to the children for a summer outing, during the kindness of Mrs. N. E. Bragg. Miss Clark, with twelve of the little ones, went there the last of June and stayed a fortnight. In July, the Hughes' Point with the Hammond street Sunday school excursion. During the summer the children frequently ate their supper out of doors, and they always enjoyed it. On the afternoon of the Fourth of July they had ice cream and cake served to them in the summer house. Mr. Beal kindly gave the children a pass to the Eastern Maine Fair, but it was not used on account of scarlet fever in the house.

In September, Mr. M. E. Brackett gave all the children a buckboard ride to Newburgh where they stayed three hours, having a delightful time at the home of Mr. William Goodrich. The week after this they enjoyed a three hours' ride on the street railway as the gift of Mr. Snow, the superintendent.

On Thanksgiving afternoon, Mr. John Parker entertained the children with a music box and phonograph. The phonograph was something new to them and they were highly delighted when they heard their own singing reproduced by it. Mr. Parker added to their enjoyment by giving them a nice little treat of candy and cake. Mrs. John S. Penman and her Sunday school class kindly furnished a decorated tree for the Christmas celebration. The tree was lighted at 8 o'clock, and as the children marched into the room they looked as if they expected a grand time, and evidently they were not disappointed. All the children had presents, and as much cake and candy as was good for them.

In November, Dr. J. K. Phillips, who has been one of the Home's physicians for six years, died after a short illness. In him the Home has lost a kind friend and one who was ever ready to answer cheerfully every call made upon him.

Some needed repairs have been made to the Home building. The basement has been thoroughly cleaned and repainted, and the necessary repairs made to the roof.

One of the building committee, generously donated new hard wood floors for the front hall, library, play room, nursery, dining room, kitchen, and parlors. The back stairs were rebuilt and some minor repairs were also made, at Mr. Fogg's expense. The total cost of his gift was $294.22.

It will be remembered that two years ago, Mr. A. D. Manson left a legacy to the Home, and that very soon after $7,600 were received and added to the endowment fund. Last August, when the final settlement of his estate was made, the treasurer of the Home received $829 more. This was also added to the endowment fund.

Many donations of food and clothing have been gratefully received and thoroughly appreciated. Six circles of King's Daughters have met at the Home at different times and assisted in sewing for the children. This kind of work is always needed and is gladly acknowledged.

Georgianna Brown.

The retiring president, Mrs. Moses Giddings, who has officiated in that capacity for 13 years, was presented, by two ladies, with a beautiful silver tray as a token of their high esteem and for the faithfulness in which she had served during that long period. The presentation was made by Mrs. N. E. Bragg, with a few well chosen remarks. Mrs. Giddings responded very briefly.

SPORTSMEN

ANNUAL MEETING OF MAINE FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION.

ABOUT 50 MEMBERS PRESENT.

HON. F. O. VICKERY, OF AUGUSTA, ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Interesting Discussion of Important Matters Held—Prominent Men of the State Participated.

The annual meeting of the Maine Sportsmen's Fish and Game Association was held in the Bangor Hall of the city building on Tuesday afternoon.

An attendance of about 50 members from all over the state was present and after the reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and the officers for the ensuing year had been elected, some interesting questions of vital importance to the state were discussed. The officers elected for the year 1900 were as follows:

President, F. O. Vickery.
First Vice President, A. M. Spear, Gardiner.
Second Vice President, F. H. Appleton, Bangor.
Third Vice President, Wm. F. Frye, Lewiston.
Fourth Vice President, John F. Hill, Augusta.
Fifth Vice President, Col. J. K. Stearns, Bangor.
Sixth Vice President, Col. H. E. Hamlin, Ellsworth.
Seventh Vice President, Charles E. Oak, Caribou.
Secretary and Treasurer, Col. E. C. Farrington.
Directors—P. O. Vickery, Victor, Maine; G. G. Wood, U. C. Farrington, W. S. Choate, J. B. Sprague, I. N. Herrell, and on the part of the state, Hon. A. P. Gordon, Council Bluffs.
Committee on Legislation—P. O. Vickery, A. M. Gordon, Augusta; A. M. Spear, Gardiner; W. B. Parsons, Foxcroft; L. T. Carleton, Winthrop.
Committee on Fisheries—E. M. Blandine, Bangor; L. T. Carleton, Hallowell; O. Stanley, Bangor.
Consulting Attorney—H. M. Heath, Augusta.

Since the last meeting there have been two deaths in the association. Those of Sumner L. Crosby of this city and Isaac McCallan of Greenport, N. Y. Notice of these two names was made by short speeches by Dr. G. G. Weld of Oldtown, for the former, and by E. M. Blandine, for the latter. These two gentlemen were instructed by the chair to draw up resolutions of regret and present them to the secretary.

After the routine business had been concluded, President Vickery rose and announced that the meeting was ready to hear any discussions which might properly come before it. Secretary Farrington said that the questions which most needed attention were those of a continuous close time on all moose and the September license law.

MR. CARLETON OPENS DISCUSSION.

Calls were at once made for Mr. L. T. Carleton, the chairman of the Fish and Game Commission of the state, to open the discussion. Mr. Carleton rose and after thanking the meeting for the privilege, spoke in part as follows: "Does the state of Maine need a continuous close time on all moose? This question has been discussed with much interest among the people of Maine. There is now a law forbidding the killing of cow moose and calf moose. If the legislature was in session this year I should be opposed to any law prohibiting the killing of moose. What another year may bring forth, I cannot tell, but I have talked with men who know, honest men, and many of them tell me that the moose are on the increase. Others tell me the opposite. But one of the most experienced wardens in the state who does nothing in the game season but travel over the moose region of the state told me the other day that he believed that there were 10 moose now where there were one five or ten years ago.

"The warden's statement in Bangor during the last season, says that the moose heads brought through this city were larger than those of last year. This is a hopeful sign.

"I do not believe that you will find many of the more intelligent guides who want a close time on moose.

"But it is a sad thing that so many moose should be killed illegally. More cow and calf moose were killed last year than for a long time. However, do not think this is the fault of the commissioners. We do all in our power, with the means at our disposal, to prevent it. Certain it is that more people have come to Maine during the last year than in any year in the history of the state.

"The number of days' increase for guides' labor in 1899 was 12,000 over 1898. The fact is, that Maine is the great vacation state of this country and the people are finding it out. Farmers are finding it out, and those who live on our beautiful lakes and ponds are attracting summer tourists to them."

Mr. Carleton talked interestingly as one who knows, for some time on the condition of the moose in the state, and gave statistics which seemed to show that the animals were rather on the increase than otherwise. When he finished, Mr. Macfarlane, of Greenville, rose and suggested that as Mr. Carleton had had such a good opportunity to observe the workings of the Bagdad law, he be asked to give the meeting his opinion on the subject. Mr. Carleton responded briefly as follows:

"Does the law which says that a hunting party may take one deer for

PRETTY NEW YEAR'S WEDDING.

Miss May Pratt, of this City, United in Marriage to Mr. Chas. Wilcox, Also of Bangor.

One of the prettiest New Year's weddings of the city was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Pratt, 257 State street, Monday noon, when their daughter, Miss May M. Pratt, was married to Mr. Charles A. Wilcox, Rev. C. G. Mosher, of the Essex street church was the officiating clergyman. Many friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present and the presents were pretty and valuable, attesting the high esteem in which both parties are held.

After a wedding lunch the young couple left on the 1.15 train for Boston and vicinity where they will spend about two weeks, after which they will return to Bangor to reside at 257 State street.

The bride wore a traveling costume of red broadcloth and carried roses, presenting a charming picture as she stood at the marriage altar to take the holy vows of matrimony.

Miss Pratt has long been one of Bangor's well known and generally liked young ladies and many friends wish with each other in warmest expressions of good will.

Mr. Wilcox is a young business man of the city. For some time he has been engaged in the grocery business on Forest avenue and is known as a progressive and promising young man.

His bride, Miss Pratt, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Pratt, of this city, and is a well educated and accomplished young lady.

Chas. A. Jenkins, of Kinco, to Successor O. A. Dennen at That Famous Resort.

Dr. Hiram Hunt and Mr. Wm. M. Shaw, of Greenville, and Mr. Charles A. Jenkins, of Kinco, were in the city yesterday. These are the gentlemen who have purchased the controlling interest in the Kinco Company and they will hold the meeting of the stockholders on Tuesday next to elect officers of the corporation.

The new deal means that Mr. Jenkins, who has for several years past been assistant manager of the Kinco House, and for several years previous, will become manager in place of Capt. O. A. Dennen, who has so successfully managed the house for so many years and whose retirement will be regretted by a host of friends all over the country who have enjoyed his hospitality at the Kinco House, which he has built up to its present grand position as a summer resort.

Mr. Jenkins' long connection with the house has not only fitted him for the succession but has also given him an extended acquaintance among the thousands of patrons of the place, and they will extend to him a warm welcome in his new position.

That the same success may attend him in his management of the hotel as he has achieved at his many resorts is to be hoped.

CHIEF JUSTICE WISWELL.

court opened with Chief Justice Wiswell, of Ellsworth, presiding.

This is Judge Wiswell's first sitting since his appointment at the head of the judiciary of Maine, he having been sworn into his new office before the Governor and Council at the State House, Augusta, about 12.15 o'clock on Tuesday morning. He came to Bangor in the forenoon.

The opening of court found a large attendance of lawyers and prominent men, many of whom had assembled in the court room in honor of the new chief justice. Among those present from out of town were Governor Powers, Hon. Frederick A. Powers, the newly appointed associate justice, Judge D. Deane of Dexter, County Attorney B. L. Smith of Patten, Hon. Orville D. Baker of Augusta, County Attorney Hazeltine and Sheriff McFadden of Kennebec county. Hon. Henry W. Mayo of Hampden.

After the usual opening exercise during which Rev. S. L. Bowler offered prayer, the jury was called and em-

PAIRED PROF. TORRENS.

A Former Bangor Man Very Successful in Musical Work in Rockford, Ill.

The Rockford Ill., Star of recent date has a very complimentary notice of the excellent results attained by the direction of Prof. Torrens, formerly of Bangor, whose musical skill is evidently greatly appreciated in that city.

The Star says in an extended notice: "The Rockford Choral club was splendidly successful in its first concert which was given last evening in Church Street church. The chorus sang finely and the soloists were in fine voice, arousing great enthusiasm in the magnificent audience, which entirely filled the church."

The very thorough work done by Professor Torrens and his singers during the past four months was far from vain. It cannot be gainsaid that the new club gave the finest choral singing ever heard in Rockford. Such indeed is the opinion of lovers of choral music who have been familiar with all the efforts in this line, and it would be hard to conceive of better work being accomplished under the circumstances.

The entire credit for the excellence of the chorus must be accorded to Professor Torrens, who has devoted the past four months to getting the singers in readiness for this concert. It is hardly necessary to say that he is one of the ablest conductors of choral work in the land. He has had a long career in this line of work and has always attained highest artistic results. Musically, his work has ever been successful and he has been a potent influence in the musical development of every city where he has resided. His work in Rockford during the days of the old Choral Union imparted a life to the musical energies of the city that has been felt by all the local clubs. The present chorus is bringing out new voices and bids fair to be as prolific of singers as was the chorus a decade ago. On Sept. 1 Professor Torrens took the chorus of the new Choral club and began drilling the crude material into an effective chorus. The concert showed how thorough and successful had been his labor, and he received hearty congratulations from hundreds who had been delightedly entertained.

A feature that is deserving of notice was the work of the orchestra. For this organization Professor Torrens has done quite as much as for the chorus. He has smoothed down the playing of the members until the results they attain are hardly recognizable.

PERSONAL NOTES.

John Morley, the English politician and author, has denied to a London Chronicle reporter the rumor that he will visit the city.

C. P. Huntington is now the only survivor of the great "San Juan Pacific" disaster, composed of San Juan, Chock, Hopkins and himself, and he now owns three-fourths of the stock of the road.

When Senator Proctor, of Vermont, first took his seat in Washington he wore a full beard. This he soon shaved off, then later let it grow again and has now made another change by having it cut short and to a point.

S. S. McClure, the publisher, told the Nineteenth Century Club a New York journal that the best literature of the past fifteen years has been printed in daily newspapers. They introduced Kipling, Stevenson, Hardy, Doyle, Meredith, Barrie and Weyman.

Sir Charles Nicholson, the sole surviving member of the first Australian Parliament, has just entered on his 92nd year. He graduated as an M. D. from the University of Edinburgh in 1834. He was a member of the House of Commons in 1834. He was a member of the House of Commons in 1834. He was a member of the House of Commons in 1834.
